

Center for Creative Arts Therapies
Presents

Inspirational Salon Season II

The Inspirational Salon is a Series of 4 Salon's that provide an opportunity to network with Art Therapist and people interested in Art Therapy and to increase knowledge of what is going on in our community.

All Salons are 2-5pm.

September 26

Creating Illuminated Intention Mandalas
with Caterina Martinico ATR, BC and Patricia Waters, ATR, BC

An art experiential in creating Illuminated Intention Mandalas. Using discussion, guided meditation and writing, we will share a brief introductory experience of the Illuminated Mandala Process. Each participant will create a small mandala using white pencil on black paper, using the scale of light for illumination to represent and amplify our intentions. This process can be used with clients and groups as a meditative process to connect them with their intentions.

October 31

Marsha Connell

Dream Vessels: Night Visions and Day Dreams
Collages and Poetry

A premonition of the Gulf War in a dream, and a daughter in Jerusalem for her junior year abroad, impelled me to begin the Dream Vessels collages. Begun in 1991, my "letters without words" have continued for two decades. From a time when I had no words, and images came into my hands like dreams, collage making gradually led me into writing, often through Authentic Movement. This practice opened new pathways to reenter, understand, and expand connections, often leading me to embody aspects of the collages, to live them like waking dreams.

Salons are held at Arts and Ethics Academy Art Room #1
950 S. Wright Road
Please park in south parking lot.

For information:
email: info@creativeartstherapies.org,
or call (707) 578-1064
Day of call (707) 478-8147

December 5

Carousel of Inspiration: this is an opportunity to experience three brief Art Therapy related presentations. This ranges from interesting internships, accomplishments or findings by our colleagues. TBA

January 22

Naomi Murakami
Spirituality and Art

Viewing and creating art using a process emphasis. Naomi is the Art Director of the Wellness and Advocacy Center in Santa Rosa.